

We understand the duty of care you have to provide effective lighting as outlined in the Workplace Regulations 1992.

The next priority is to ensure that your lighting system is as cost efficient and sustainable as possible, whilst minimising the impact on the environment.

We offer the full range of design, project management, installation, electrical connections and maintenance services for commercial facilities in the UK and Ireland.

Our many years of experience in internal and external commercial lighting for retail developments, transport hubs, warehousing and logistics centres ensures we have the insight and technical expertise needed to create and install lighting solutions that meet all of these requirements.

Tailoring the design to the specific needs of your premises, we ensure the correct lighting levels are provided throughout. We can even provide energy saving modelling and advice to ensure the system operates to optimal effect, night and day.

We work with the leading lighting manufacturers to ensure that your facilities employ the latest LED and lighting technology so that you operate at the optimum light levels with the up-most energy efficiency.

Full range of project management, consultancy design, installation and maintenance

Our approach covers a comprehensive range of solutions, including central management systems, LED white lighting to help with clarity of CCTV and vandal resistant features.

These options can be combined with flexible lighting control for use outside peak time, providing a sustainable lighting solution without compromising security.

We're the largest external lighting contractor in the UK and Ireland. We give you a strong supply chain combined with consistent, local service wherever your premises are located.

Large or small, all schemes are treated equally; we design, install and connect internal and external commercial lighting schemes on any scale or complexity and if required, maintain them on an ongoing basis.

Working together

We have created solid partnerships with many other commercial customers, built upon honesty, openness and co-operation. We'd welcome the opportunity to do the same with your organisation.
